DESIGN No. 1.

Design No. 1 represents a small church that can be built for $1,000 to $1,500. An edifice was built at Liberty Park, Camden, for $1,000, very similar to it. It is 24 by 48 feet, will seat 100 in main room, 50 in small room; has between the two rooms sashes that raise, so that the two rooms can be used together. The ceiling is higher in the centre the sides being sloped up. All walls and ceiling are plastered. It is wainscoted to height of window sills. The pews are shown straight but curved ones can be used if preferred, the difference in cost being very slight. The small room opposite the vestibule can be used for Bible class, infant room, session room, or any purpose to which such a room could be applied.

CHURCH AT RUTHERFORD, N. J.

We present the designs and give the description of this beautiful church, notwithstanding the obvious fact that it is far more costly than the buildings in the erection of which this Board is expected to aid. We receive frequent inquiries in regard to such buildings, and the study of their arrangements is always of service, even in the planning of much less expensive buildings.

The illustrations give a view of the edifice, and the arrangement of its various parts. The extreme length, including the porte cochere, is 189 feet, and the extreme width 131 feet. The main audience-room is cruciform, with a seating capacity of 600. Its length, through the nave to back of chancel or apse, is 98 feet, and its breadth across the transepts 78 feet. The nave is 44 feet wide, and the transepts 26 feet wide. Two of the massive supporting columns of the tower appear at the intersection of nave and transepts, and from them spring a fine series of arches, above which the base of the tower is pierced on three sides with lantern lights. The roofs are upheld by heavy trusses, and the ceilings are panelled in wood.

The walls are of grey Belville stone, laid in rock-faced ashlar. The interior finish is in Southern pine and Michigan brown ash. Carpets, cushions, walls, and glass, have harmonious shades of brown and amber predominant. Gas fixtures are in wrought iron.

The Chapel and Sunday-school rooms will accommodate between 400 and 500 hundred, and are similarly finished with the auditorium.

The large transept windows, 20 feet broad, and of equal height at point of arch, are filled with elegant memorial glass, the designs being the Angel of the Resurrection and the Good Shepherd with the Heavenly Choir.

These are represented in the illustrations upon the opposite page.

The architects, who have done admirable work, are Fowler & Hough of New York.

Design No. 3.

HARPER MEMORIAL CHURCH,

29TH STREET AND SUSQUEHANNA AVENUE, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

The Harper Memorial Church is constructed of stone from Avondale, Pa., a light grey stone, trimmed with Indiana limestone. The audience room is 56 by 68 feet, is entered through three doors, two from tower and one through centre vestibule. The floor is bowled, pitching-18 inches in 24 feet, the balance being level to the pulpit. There is a side entrance to pulpit, from which access is also had to audience room. The organ chamber is on the right side of pulpit, arranged for pipe-organ. The seats are semi-circular, and will accommodate 600. The chapel is separated from audience room by means of sash partitions, all of which are movable, being hung; those in first floor descending into cellar, those in second ascending. Immediately adjoining the audience room are two stories of classrooms—the main portion of the Sabbath-school running up through. In the end of the Sabbath-school room next the street, first story is a large class-room accommodating 75; in the second, an infant room accommodating 300. The whole Sabbath-school department will accommodate 600. The two stories of class-rooms next the audience room, accommodating 200, can all be opened into audience room, so that, on special occasions the congregation can be increased to 800. The stairways are ample and easy. Toilet rooms are provided for the children. The audience room has open timber ceiling. All rooms are wainscoted. All the windows glazed with beautiful stained glass. The entire building is heated with hot air.

DESIGN No. 4.

Design No. 4 represents an inexpensive church, so planned that it can be enlarged when necessity requires without any large loss of expense incurred in the smaller building. Plate No. 1 represents the church as first built, 35 by 31 feet, seating 200, and costing about $1,000 or $1,200, the expense varying according to the material (wood, brick or stone) used below the windows.

Plate No. 2 represents the same church enlarged by an addition 20 by 37 feet, giving 175 additional sittings. Only the rear wall of the original building would need to be disturbed. The addition could be made for from $800 to $1,000.

Plate No. 3 gives the ground plan, the original building being indicated by the dark lines, and the addition by the dotted lines.

DESIGN No. 5.

Design No. 5 represents a very unique and artistic building designed for a Sunday-school Chapel. It is a large building, and, as here given, somewhat expensive. The largest diameters of the entire building are 68 and 44 feet.

As built of stone, at Newton, Ga., the cost was about $7,000. The design is, however, very suggestive and the general features could be procured in a very much smaller and more inexpensive building.

86 Designs.

This is a design for a small frame church of Colonial style The audience room is 32 by 56 feet; the lecture room is 22 by 32 feet; session room 10 by 11 feet; organ recess 10 by 14 feet. The lecture room is separated from the main room by sash partitions, which are hung and can be raised so that the two rooms can be used as one. The seating capacity of the main room is 200; the lecture room 100, making a total of 300 for the whole. The construction is frame, and will cost from $3,000 to $5,000, depending on finish and style of work. The interior can be plastered work or open timber; in either case the ceiling will be arched.

ANNUAL REPORT

GENERAL ASSEMBLY,

MAY, 1890.

THE PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF RELIEF FOR DISABLED MINISTERS, AND THE WIDOWS AND ORPHANS OF DECEASED MINISTERS, respectfully presents to THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY its Thirty-Fifth Annual Report. The Book of Minutes containing the proceedings of the Board for the year from April 1, 1889, to April 1, 1890, is also herewith presented.

During the past year the Board has sustained a great loss in the death of Rev. R. D. Harper, D. D., which occurred on the third of January last. Dr. Harper was a member of this Board for ten years, during all of which time he bore its interests upon his heart. A further notice of this honored and beloved brother, taken from the March number of the Church at Home and Abroad, will be found appended to this report.

In our Report to the Assembly of last year reference was made to the "History and Outlook of the Board," prepared by direction of the Assembly for its centennial year, and printed in pamphlet form for general distribution. A number of copies still remain, and these will be sent to any address that may be forwarded to the Office of the Board.

THE ROLL.

The number on the Roll of the Board to whom remittances were sent upon the recommendation of the Presbyteries during the year from April 1, 1889, to April 1, 1890, was 624: that is, ministers, 241; widows of ministers, 358; orphan families, 24; and one widow of a Medical Missionary placed upon our Roll according to the directions of the last General Assembly. (See printed Minutes page 32). The number of families provided for during the year at the Ministers' House at Perth Amboy, N. J., was 18, making upon the Roll of the Board during the past year a total of 642 families, an increase of 27 over last year.

It should be borne in mind that there are more than 642 persons who share in these appropriations. These families are often composed of aged couples; or the minister, laid aside from his active duties, may have a wife and children to support. There are also many families composed of dependent widows with little children to be cared for.

The Presbyterial recommendations in their behalf came from 159 Presbyteries. The Presbytery of West Africa recommends three families. The Missionaries who have returned home, and who may need help in their sickness or old age, are of course recommended by the Presbyteries with which they are connected in this country.

WITHDRAWALS FROM THE ROLL.

Besides several withdrawals from the Roll, owing to a change in pecuniary circumstances or restored health which has rendered further aid from the Board no longer necessary, forty-four names have been removed from our roll by death—that is, twenty-six ministers and eighteen widows. The death of the head of the family, however, does not always withdraw the family from the Roll of this Board. In many cases the helpless widow, or the orphan children are still to be provided for.

ADDITIONS TO THE ROLL.

There have been seventy-seven families added to the Roll during the year; that is, forty-one ministers, thirty-five widows, and one orphan family.

THE MINISTERS' HOUSE.

The number of families at the Ministers' House has been eighteen—in all twenty-one persons. For further information respecting this Home for the sick and aged servants of the Church the Board begs leave to refer the Assembly to its previous Reports, and especially to the extended notice which appeared in the Church at Home and Abroad for last May. This account, containing also a picture of the Home, has been reprinted, and copies will be sent to any one who may apply, in person or by letter, to the office of the Board.

During the past year one of the aged guests, a beloved mother in Israel, was called to the House not made with hands. Ap-appreciative notice of this estimable lady appeared in our church journals from the pen of Rev. Edward Cooper, D.D., who has resided for some weeks at the Home, availing himself of the provision made by the Board—so long as there may be unoccupied rooms—for ministers of our Church who may wish to enjoy temporarily the privileges of the Home at their own charges. He says:

The Bible was her daily text-book and her example reflected its teachings to ennoble, purify and encourage those who came within the circle of which she was the recognized centre and to whom she was a constant benediction. In the freedom of her long cherished friendship she often alluded to the wonderful course of God's gracious providence in making this old mansion, built for the Colonial government with royal munificence, the delightful home for the aged and infirm laborer for Christ. Under the permanent management of the Presbyterian Church there is secured an intelligent and faithful superintendence with tender and sympathetic ministries to temporal and spiritual needs. She often spoke of the goodness of God in granting her such a calm retreat for the closing period of her life. There was but one place more dear to her; and that was the New Jerusalem which, in her last hours, her faith saw "coming down from heaven," with the pearly gates open, through which she passed in the early morning hours on the twenty-fourth day of January.

When the House was first opened, the Board was not unmindful of the fact that, owing to the extreme old age and infirm health of most of those who would seek its privileges, the number of deaths would be large-at least, in proportion to the number composing the Household. And, in fact, there were five deaths in a little more than a year after the first guest was admitted.* The Board was, therefore, careful to provide a suitable burial lot in the beautiful cemetery at Perth Amboy. This piece of hallowed ground is now nearly filled with the graves of those who have fallen asleep; and the Board, during the past year, has thought it wise to purchase additional lots. Other expenses during the year at the House, including a new roof, have made more than the average demand upon our Treasury for the support of the Home. We doubt not, however, that all the money really needed to make this Home comfortable for the infirm and aged servants of the Church will be regarded by the Assembly as wisely spent; nor will the Assembly regret the expenditure for an appropriate resting place for the beloved and honored dead near the Home in which their declining years were peacefully spent, and which they loved so well. The first recorded purchase in the history of the race was that of a grave.*

LEGACIES.

It will be seen from the statement on page 18 that the Permanent Fund of the Board has been largely increased during the past year by legacies.† The total of bequests received during theyear (all of which, unless the legatee directs otherwise, is placed in our Permanent Fund) is larger than the whole amount received by the Board from legacies for the last eight years. No doubt some of God's people have been influenced to remember this Board in their wills from the general interest in our work awakened during the centennial year, when many new friends were won to this cause, and this will account for some of the bequests received during the past year. More will doubtless follow. among those whose names appear on page 18 were some who, for many years, have shown their interest in the work of this Board by large gifts sent annually to our Treasury. Our income will therefore not be so largely increased as this great addition to our permanent fund would suggest-unless indeed the places. of these annual contributors, who have passed away to their reward on high, are taken by new friends of the cause whose special gifts to the Treasury year by year will replace those that have now ceased.

THE TREASURY.

The past year has been exceptional in the history of the Board in one respect—our funds for current use have been sufficient to meet the demands upon our Treasury without any special appeal to the Churches, either through circulars or the columns of the press. But this, it must be added, is due to the large addition ($15,575) to our income from the Centenary Fund; for the appropriations last year were $8,722 more than in the year previous, while the contributions from Churches, Sabbath Schools and individuals, as will be seen from <sup>* &</sup>quot;And Abraham weighed to Ephron the silver which he had named in the audience of the sons of Heth, four hundred shekels of silver, current money with the merchant: and after this Abraham buried Sarah, his wife, in the cave of Machpelah, before Mamre."—Gen. xxiii., 16.

† Those present at the last General Assembly will recall the telegram read during one of the sessions, announcing large bequests to our Boards by an elder. Among these reported bequests was one for $50,000 fcr the Board of Relief. This amount proved to be a mistake. The bequest was for $5,000.

the comparative table given below, fell off $3,216! It should also be noted that we began the year with $18,388 in the Treasury—reduced, as was said in a foot note to the last Report, to $639.80 by the payment of the appropriations for April and May.* This year we begin with a balance of only $15,263. We have, therefore, employed in the expenditures of the year, besides the current contributions and the interest from the Permanent Fund, more than three thousand dollars of the receipts of the previous year.

This announcement will be read with sorrow by those who are interested in this cause and who are impressed with the sacred duty the Church owes to it. They will justly regard as a calamity to the Church any endowment of the Board that releases God's people from annually contributing to its support.

Pastors and Elders need therefore to remind the people that their efforts in the Centennial year will result in harm both to the Church and to this cause should there follow any diminution of their personal interest in this work. The General Assembly has, year after year, recorded its conviction that at least one hundred and fifty thousand dollars should be annually contributed for the use of this Board. Last year, the contributions from Churches, Sabbath Schools and individuals amounted to $105,369-a very little more than two-thirds of the amount named by the Assembly when the number of those upon our Roll was but little over half the number we report now! The year before last, these contributions amounted to $108,586; the year before that (which was the Centennial year) to $110,736. This steady falling off in the annual contributions suggests the question whether the Elders are really giving to the Pastors the active aid on behalf of this Board which, all over the Church, they have so cordially tendered? The Board makes an earnest appeal to them to adopt measures to arrest this steady decline. If the eldership of our Church will move vigorously in the spirit of the action taken by them at the General Assembly of 1885 at Cincinnati, and repeated at successive Assemblies and at meetings of Synods and Presbyteries all over the land, there will surely be an increase, *This year the situation (after the payments made for these two months since the books were closed) is far worse. At our last meeting, May 2, not only was our balance of $15,263 entirely used up, but our Treasury was short nearly $7,000 of the amount needed to pay the appropriations voted at this meeting.

rather than a falling off, in the annual contributions to this Board; and we beg leave to call their attention to the action inaugurated by the Presbytery of Lackawanna with a view of giving greater efficiency to the work of the Elders in behalf of this Board. It will be found appended to this report.—page 14.

THE NEW RULE OF THE ASSEMBLY.

The last Assembly ordered a change in the methods of the Board's administration with reference to honorably retired Ministers over seventy years of age who may have served the Presbyterian Church, on Mission fields or in the Pastorate, for a period in the aggregate of thirty years. Such a minister under the new rule has only to certify once for all these facts to Presbytery for record upon its minutes, and the Board upon being officially notified of this record is directed to pay the veteran such an annual amount as he may need from the Board for his support—not exceeding $300.

This important action was not hastily taken. The subject was introduced in the previous Assembly (Philadelphia) by an overture from the Presbytery of New Brunswick (see The Church at Home and Abroad, for June, 1888), requesting the appointment of a Committee, to devise some plan by which the honorably retired Ministers who have served the Church for a long period, may draw from our Treasury an annual sum for their support without being under the necessity of having their application for aid "renewed" by Presbytery year by year.

This overture was referred to the Assembly's Standing

Committee upon Ministerial Relief, Governor Beaver, Chairman, which recommended that the subject matter of said overture be referred to a special Committee of seven, of which the Secretary of the Board of Relief and one member of said Board to be chosen by the Board itself, shall be members; the other five members of which shall be appointed by the Moderator, with instructions to report upon the whole question involved in said Overture at the meeting of the next General Assembly.

This recommendation was adopted by the Assembly, and the Moderator appointed as Chairman of this Committee Rev. John Dixon, D. D., Pastor of the First Church, Trenton, N. J., with whom the Overture originated, and who brought to the consideration of the whole subject the results of wise and careful study. The other members appointed by the Moderator were: Ministers, D. R. Frazer, D. D., and Henry Van Dyke, D. D.; Elders, Ezra M. Kingsley and Charles D. Morris. The Board appointed its President, Elder George Junkin; and these brethren, with the Secretary of the Board as provided for by the resolution of the Assembly, constituted the Committee which held several meetings during the year.

From many personal interviews with the brethren and much correspondence with those specially interested in this work in different parts of the country, it soon became evident to the Committee that there was a diversity of opinion with reference to making a general provision, in the nature of an annuity or pension, for all Ministers honorably retired after a certain age. While many persons thought this should be done and no question raised as to the aged Minister's need, many others (who were in the fullest sympathy with the object and aims of the Board), stoutly opposed it as unwise and impracticable—at least without an adequate fund raised for the special purpose. The opinion seemed to be very general that all appropriations from the Board should, as heretofore, be placed in the hands only of those ministers or widows who may be in need of such assistance, although all held the just view that the appropriations from this Board were not to be regarded as charity, but as an acknowledgment of services rendered to the church. It was also urged by many that the honorably retired Ministers who may have spent their long, useful and honored lives as teachers, or professors and Presidents in our Colleges, or as Secretaries in our Boards and in other such agencies (to say nothing of those grown old in secular employments) should depend for their retiring allowance in old age, upon the Institution or Corporation they have served—like their colleagues (not Ministers) engaged in the very same work. But all agreed that the claims of those worn-out Ministers whose lives had been spent either in the Pastorate of the Presbyterian Church or upon its Mission fields, at home or abroad, and who were in need, should have special recognition by the Church they have served; that it should be clearly and emphatically stated by the Assembly that their claim for support in old age was on account of such service and not merely because they were poor, and that they should be exempt from the rule of the Assembly requiring an annual recommendation of Presbytery before the Board can vote any appropriation.

The Committee therefore recommended the following action, which was unanimously adopted by the Assembly:

Every honorably retired minister over seventy years of age, who is in need, and who has served our Church as a missionary of the Home or Foreign Board or as a pastor or stated supply for a period in the aggregate not less than thirty years, shall be entitled by such service to draw from the Board of Ministerial Relief an annual sum for his support without the necessity of being annually recommended therefor by the Presbytery. When such a minister shall certify to the Presbytery the fact an 1 amount of his need, not exceeding $300 per annum, it shall be the duty of the Stated Clerk to forward the app ication to the Board, with his endorsement there in as to the years of service such minister has rendered, his field or fields of labor, with the term of service in each, and to report the same to Presbytery for record on its minutes. It shall then be the duty of the Board to pay such annual amount so long as the applicant shall live, unless otherwise directed by the Presbytery or the applicant himself, in view of a change in his circumstances that may make the appropriation in whole or in part no longer necessary.

This new rule, it need scarcely be said, renders more dignified and independent the position of many worn-out Pastors and Missionaries already upon our Roll; and nineteen of these aged men have applied, during the past year, to be placed upon the new list.

These faithful men, worn-out in the sacred office and whose life-long services to our Church as Pastors and Mission-aries are now a matter of honorable record in the Presbytery, are saved from the humiliation of appearing before their brethren year by year, with the pitiful story of their want, in order to secure a "recommendation" for aid from this Board. They are also saved from the embarrassing and painful delays in receiving their appropriations from the Board, as too frequently happens, owing to the failure through some mishap or other of their annual "renewals" to be promptly laid before the Board by the proper authorities.

Seven other honorably retired Ministers, who had previously hesitated to avail themselves of the provision made by the Church for the support of its worn-out Ministers, had the record of their Pastoral and Missionary services placed upon the minutes of the Presbytery, and their names were entered upon our new Roll. It was well understood that the action of the Assembly would add a few more names to those already upon our Roll. Board is persuaded that the Church will rejoice in the duty, as also in the privilege, of supplying the "need" of every one of its ministers who is over seventy years of age, and who is honorably retired by the Presbytery from the active duties of his sacred calling after serving the Presbyterian Church for thirty years as a Pastor or Missionary. And God's people will further rejoice that the veteran has been assured by this special and emphatic deliverance of the Church that "he is entitled by such service" to have his "need" removed; and that when all the facts of his long and honored service are, once for all, a matter of record in his Presbytery, he can depend upon receiving from this Board, his modest remittance for the few remaining years of his life, promptly and regularly, without the annual "renewal" by Presbytery.

The oldest of these ministers, placed upon the new "Roll of Honor," is in his ninety-fourth year. Eight are past four-score. The average age is seventy-eight and the average number of years spent in the ministry is forty-four. Nearly all of them have certified to Presbytery that they need from the Board for their support Three Hundred Dollars—the limit of the amount fixed by the Assembly and which is the maximum appropriation made by the Board. Four asked for $200 and one for $150; and the entire sum paid by our great and wealthy Clurch to these twenty-six veterans during the year, amounts to only $7,250—exactly three fourths of the annuity paid to each of the Judges of our Supreme Court, upon his retirement from active duties at the age of seventy.

The Board cannot but feel that they express the opinion of the whole Church when they record their gratification at this advanced step taken by the Assembly on behalf of these aged Wards of the Church; and also in expressing the hope that, with the increasing interest manifested in this sacred cause throughout the Church and a more intelligent appreciation of the duty of the people to the ministry, a better provision can be made for these veterans and for all who are upon the roll of the Board. But a little study of the Treasurer's Report for last year will show that God's people must greatly enlarge their contributions to this Cause before any advance can be made in the appropriations of the Board. For, notwithstanding the large amount of interest received from the Permanent Fund, had we begun the year with no money in our treasury we should have ended it with a debt of $3,125! In other words, the whole income of the Board for the year just closed—contributions from all sources and the interest from the Permanent Fund—was three thousand dollars less than the sum needed to carry on the work of the year, even upon the scale of the present small appropriations!

This fact should be clearly stated by all Pastors to their people, and it should be a stimulus to the Elders in supplementing the appeals of the Pastor by personal solicitations throughout the congregation.

The term of service of the following members of the Board expires with the present Assembly: Rev. John A. Liggett, D. D., Rev. J. Henry Sharpe, D. D., Robert C. Ogden, Esq., John D. Wattles, Esq.

The vacancy occasioned by the death of Dr. Harper was filled by the election by the Board of Rev. W. M. Paden to serve during the remainder of the year. This vacancy is now to be filled by the Assembly.

Respectfully submitted on behalf of the Board,

WILLIAM C. CATTELL, Corresponding Secretary.

May 2d, 1890.

REV. R. D. HARPER, D. D.

The Board of Ministerial Relief has met with a great loss in the death of Rev. Robert D. Harper, D. D., which occurred on the third of January last. For ten years he had occupied a seat in the Board, and, as was his wont in all that he undertook, he was active, earnest, conscientious and faithful in the discharge of his duties. He was a man eminently wise in counsel, and always prompt, as well as frank and courteous, in expressing his convictions. The General Assembly in 1884 appointed him to the special duty of securing a library for the Ministers' Home, under the care of the Board, at Perth Amboy. Within a year there was collected a valuable library as the result of his well-directed and energetic efforts. . . But he bore upon his mind and heart all the interests of the Board. He never wearied in his efforts to advance its tender and sacred work.

Dr. Harper had been spending a few days at the sea-shore to recuperate for his next Sabbath's work. Although for several weeks he had not been in robust health, there was no thought on the part of his friends that he was in a precarious condition. But shortly after leaving Atlantic City with Mrs. Harper, on the way home, "he was not, for God took him."

A friend who was with him on the cars, and who had spent several days at the same hotel with him at Atlantic City, writes in a note to the Secretary of the Board:

On the day Dr. Harper started for home we had after dinner a half hour's talk at the hotel. It will be of special interest to you to know that our conversation was entirely upon the subject of ministerial relief. The doctor introduced the subject as though it was one continually on his mind. He gave special expression of the joy he felt in the awakened interest throughout the Church in this important work. Shortly after this interview was ended we left for the cars, and the train had gone but a few miles when he suddenly expired. . . . .

This was perhaps his last "talk" on earth, and it was all upon the Church's sacred duty to its worn-out servants. He had scarcely ceased to dwell tenderly and lovingly upon this theme—the care of the suffering brethren of Christ—when he entered into Christ's presence. Dare we not think that in the welcome he received from the Master there were some such words as these: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me"?

While our loss is his gain, we cannot but deeply feel that loss. We mourn sincerely that we shall see his face no more.

And what Dr. Harper was in the Board of Relief, he was also in all the relations he sustained to his brethren in church work. This is shown by the appreciative minute adopted by his presbytery, by the Philadelphia Association of Ministers with which he was connected, by the Presbyterian Historical Society, and, above all, by the church and congregation he served so faithfully and by whom he was so devotedly loved.

From the February number of The Church at Home and Abroad.

THE AID OF THE ELDERSHIP.

The Presbytery of Chester (Synod of Pennsylvania) at its last meeting adopted the plan of the Lackawanna Presbytery (in the same Synod) to secure the efficient aid of the eldership on behalf of the Board of Ministerial Relief.

A reference to this plan was made in the December, 1888, number of this journal (page 560), where some account was given of the remarkable movement among the elders, which began at the General Assembly of 1885. The elder-commissioners to the Assembly of that year adopted an address to their fellow elders, in which they emphasized the special duty and obligation of the eldership with reference to the Board of Ministerial Relief. Among other things they say:

During the present Assembly many of us have been deeply moved upon this subject. We have felt a special call to go forward, actively and earnestly, in this matter. The hearts of the pastors are with their "suffering brethren," but many of them feel a reluctance to press home this subject upon the hearts and consciences of their people. It seems to them like pleading for themselves or claiming their own right. We do not think there should be this reluctance, but we can understand the feeling that underlies it, and we sympathize with it. And it constitutes an obligation, all the more imperative and sacred, for the elders to give their hearts and hands to the important work of this Board. We ought to esteem it both our duty and our privilege to bring this cause before our people, so that in every congregation systematic and liberal contributions may be made to it.

If the people are instructed, they will promptly, heartily and generously respond. Let us solemnly, and in the fear of God, charge ourselves with this responsible duty.

At the next General Assembly the elder-commissioners not only "heartily endorsed the address and appeal issued by the elders of the last General Assembly," but took an advanced step toward rendering the proffered aid of the eldership more efficient. They recommended—

That each session appoint one elder who shall charge himself with the special duty of disseminating information in his church and awakening its interest in the beneficent work of the Board, and who, on the day of the annual collection, shall be ready himself to address the congregation in behalf of the Board in case the pastor shall consent.

This recommendation was endorsed by the Assembly, and the following year at Omaha the Assembly resolved—

That the Assembly regards with favor the effort recently inaugurated to enlist and utilize the interest and influence of the eldership in behalf of this agency for the relief and help of those laid aside from the active work of the Church. This Assembly would reiterate its approval of the special arrangements suggested last year, by which an elder should be associated with the pastor in the oversight of the interests of this Board in the congregation.

A full account of these successive steps, from the first meeting of the elders at Cincinnati in 1885 to the centennial year, is given in "The History and Outlook" of the Board, prepared by order of the Assembly.

It was in this centennial year (1888) that the Presbytery of Lackawanna gave still greater efficiency to the plan recommended by the elders in 1886, and endorsed by the Assemblies of 1886 and 1887. This was done by having the presbytery appoint in each church the elder who shall "be associated with the pastor in the oversight of the interests of this Board in the congregation." It was thought, by making this a presbyterial appointment, and requiring the elder to report to presby ery of "his d ligence therein," that there would be an added stimulus to the performance of the sacred duty,

And now, by a printed circular issued by the efficient stated clerk, Dr. Roberts, we learn that the Presbytery of Chester has taken the same action. These brethr n recognize the fact that "elders ought to be more deeply interested in this work," and also that "presbyterial oversight is essential in order to give the highest measure of success to this movement." As in the Presbytery of Lackawanna, a nominating committee was appointed, so that the selection of an elder in each congregation might be made after due deliberation and consultation with the other elders and with the pastors. The whole circular is given below. It will be read with interest, not only by chairman of ministerial relief committees in other presbyteries, but by all those who have been led to feel a special interest in the sacred and important work of this Board, and who share in the conviction that God's people ought to be "roused to greater zeal and earnestness in the cause":

The Committee of the Presbytery of Chester on Ministerial Relief, in their report. April, 1889, reminded presbytery that the General Assembly and the Synod of Pennsylvania had, each of them, taken action favoring the appointment of one elder from each church to assist the pastor in bringing the cause of ministerial relief before the people. They also laid before presbytery the special reasons for such action, as follows:

I. That many pastors feel reluctant to press upon the hearts and consciences of the people the claims of this Board feeling that it might seem as though they were pleading for themselves or claiming their own rights.

2. That elders ought to be more deeply interested in this work; and by these appointments at least one in every session may thus be roused to greater zeal and earnestness in the cause.

3. That increased activity on the part of the elders in one department of church work prepares the way for increased activity in other departments.

4. And that presbyterial oversight is essential in order to give the highest measure of success to this movement.

The committee consequently made the following recommendations, which,

after some discussion, were adopted:

I. That the moderator appoint a committee of three, who shall nominate to the presbytery one elder from each church, who shall be specially charged with the whole interests of this cause in his own church. He shall, under oversight of the session, bring this cause before the people at least once a year for their contributions. He shall also be required to report annually at the spring meeting of presbytery his effort and success. His term of office shall be limited to one year, subject to re-election by presbytery.

2. That the stated clerk shall notify each elder appointed and send a list of all to the Secretary of the Board of Relief.

The nominating committee presented, later on in the session, a full list of elders' names, which presbytery adopted as its appointment on the above work.

The names are given below, and each elder appointed is hereby notified of his appointment.

Then follows the printed list of all the churches in the presbytery, with the name of the elder in each church "specially charged with the whole interests of this cause in his own church."

It should be added that although we began the year (April 1) with a balance in the treasury of $18,388, yet at the last meeting of the Board (January) our treasury was reported as overdrawn nearly fifteen thousand dollars! Does not this show the need of some special agency, like that of the eldership, to rouse the churches everywhere to greater "zeal and earnestness in the cause"?

MEETINGS AND RULES OF THE BOARD.

The Board meets on the third Thursday of each month, except during July and August, when a committee, appointed by the Board, acts upon all matters requiring attention during the interim. All recommendations from the Presbyteries for aid are carefully examined by a committee of the Board, who report their conclusions at each meeting. Each case is then taken up by itself, and after a consideration of all the facts, it is decided by a vote of the Board. When the Board are unable to grant the appropriation asked for, the Chairman of the Presbyterial Committee sending the application is promptly notified, and the reasons given for the decision. The following rules, approved by the General Assembly, govern the Board in the administration of this Fund:

- 1. Only members of Presbyteries in connection with the General Assembly, and the families of those who were at their death in such connection, are entitled to aid. (See note below.)
- 2. All appropriations must be made on the recommendation of that Presbytery or of a Standing Committee of that Presbytery to which the applicant, if a minister (and not Honorably Retired—see note below), belongs; if the application be for a widow or orphan children, it may be made by the Presbytery within whose bounds the family resides or by the Presbytery with which the minister was connected at the time of his death. The same rule applies to the renewal of recommendations, if aid is continued.
- 3. Appropriations are made for one year, unless otherwise ordered; and the renewals must be made from year to year. (See note below.)
- 4. Applications for aid should, in case of a minister, state his age, his circumstances and the number of years he has been in the ministry; and in the case of a deceased minister's family, the application should state the circumstances of the widow, and the sex and age of the children who are dependent on her for support.
- 5. While the responsibility of recommending applicants rests with the Presbyteries, and these recommendations largely govern the action of the Board, yet there is reserved to the Board the right to appropriate according to the merits of the case and the state of the treasury.
- 6. All the appropriations are paid in advance, provided the funds of the Board will allow; when the appropriation is at the rate of more than one hundred and fifty dollars per annum, it is paid semi-annually in advance.
- 7. Applications for admission to the Presbyterian Ministers' House, at Perth Amboy, are to be made in accordance with these Rules. Guests of the House who, in the judgment of the Superintendent, are a hindrance to its comfort and usefulness, shall be reported by her to the committee in charge, who shall have power of removal, subject to the approval of the Board.

The General Assembly of 1885 directed "That women who have given themselves to the Missionary Work be placed on the roll for the benefactions of this Board, upon the same conditions as ministers." The Assembly of 1888 modified this rule by adding "after five years of actual service under the care of either the Home or the Foreign Board." The Assembly of 1889 directed " as the best method for the present for supplying a felt need" that the names of "regularly appointed lay-Missionaries of the Foreign Board" shall also be placed upon the roll of the Board. The same Assembly also directed that "every honorably retired minister over seventy years of age, who is in need, and who has served our Church as a missionary of the Home or Foreign Board, or as a pastor, or stated supply, for a period in the aggregate not less than thirty years, shall be entitled by such service to draw from the Board of Ministerial Relief an annual sum for his support without the necessity of being annually recommended therfor by the Presbytery."

GEORGE H. WHITE,

The standing committee on the Board of Ministerial Relief, having examined the minutes and the report of the Board, recommend them to the approval of the General Assembly.

Your committee invite the attention of the General Assembly to the following fac's: During the year from April 1, 1889, to April 1, 1890, in compliance with the recommendation of Presbyteries, remittances of money were sent to 241 ministers, to 358 widows of ministers, and to twenty-four orphan families of ministers; the whole number of families provided for during the year at the Ministers' House at Perth Amboy, N. J., was eighteen, making a total of 642 families on the roll of the Board—an increase of twenty-seven over last year.

The contributions during the year from churches, Sabbath-schools and individuals amounted to $105,369, a little more than two thirds of the sum named by the last General Assembly as necessary to carry on the work of the Board. The contributions of the previous year amounted to $108,586, which was less by $2,000 than the contributions of the preceding, the centennial year. This steady decrease in the gifts of the churches to this most sacred cause may well be regarded with anxiety if not with alarm. But for the interest of the Permanent Fund, amounting to $34,911.84, the Board would close the year in debt. If the effect of the endowment raised during the centennial year is to release our people from a sense of their obligation to contribute annually to this cause, that endowment will prove to be a calamity rather than a blessing. No more sacred duty can rest upon the church than the duty to provide for the adequate support of her aged and infirm ministers and the helpless families who are dependent upon them. No more tender appeal can be made to the hearts of God's people than that which interprets the silent sufferings of those who have worn themselves out in the service of the church, and whose devotion to the spiritual welfare of others has prevented. them from making provision for the time of sickness and old age. If to visit the fatherless and the widows in their affliction is an essential fruit and evidence of pure and undefiled religion—and if in the final judgment the test of fitness for the kingdom of heaven will be the question whether we have ministered to Christ represented in His brethren—surely these elementary principles of our holy religion apply with double force to the care which the church owes to her aged and infirm ministers. The obligation to save these faithful and afflicted servants of Christ not only from bodily want, but from the humiliation of being regarded as objects of common charity or pensioners upon the bounty of the church, is not a mere matter of voluntary benevolence, but a sacred debt, for the payment of which the head of the church holds the church to a strict account.

In view of the facts above recited and of the obligation thus acknowledged, your committee recommend to the General Assembly the adoption of the following resolutions:

I. That this General Assembly acknowledges in behalf of the whole church which we represent, the solemn obligation to provide for our infirm and aged ministers, not as a matter of charity, but as a debt due alike to them and to Christ; and while expressing our tender sympathy for all those who in the providence of God are in circumstances which require the aid this Board is designed to furnish, we affectionately exhort them not to regard themselves as pensioners upon the charity of the church in any humiliating sense.

2. This Assembly solemnly enjoins upon all the churches under our care

2. This Assembly solemnly enjoins upon all the churches under our care the duty of contributing annually to the funds of this Board, and we repeat the earnest exhortation of former Assemblies to our ruling elders to see to it that every church makes a contribution to this sacred cause.

3. This Assembly recommends to the churches under its care to contribute to this Board during the coming year not less than $150,000, which in our judgment is the lowest amount needed for the adequate prosecution of the work of the Board.

Your committee recommend that the following members of the Board, whose term of service expires with this Assembly, be re-appointed: Ministers, John A: Ligget, D. D., Rev. Henry Sharpe, D. D.; Elders, Robert C. Ogden, and John D. Wattles All of which is respectfully submitted.

II. Report of the Secretary's Address.

(From the Daily Saratogian, May 19th.)

Dr. Cattell, after calling the attention of the Assembly to a few facts presented in the Report of the Board, turned to the New Rule adopted by the Assembly of last year, by which a certain class of those aided by the Board—the honorably retired Pastors and Missionaries over seventy years of age—need no longer apply every year for a renewal of their Presbyterial recommendations. This might seem to some only a slight change in the methods of the administration of this Board; yet, in the prominence it gives to the true principle of service to the Church upon which the Board is founded; and in the comfort, independence and dignity it adds to the worn-out Ministers upon our Roll, the Doctor regarded the action of the last Assembly as the most important advance made in the cause of Ministerial Relief since 1849, when the General Assembly first established a definite agency by which the Church could care for its disabled ministers.

This subject had, indeed, early engaged the attention of the Synod of Philadelphia, the first Synod of our Church organized in America, but the Doctor argued that there was then no adequate conception of the whole duty of the Church towards the Ministry. The "Corporation for the relief of poor and distressed Presbyterian Ministers and of the poor and distressed widows and children of Presbyterian Ministers," (chartered in 1759), was founded upon very much the same principle as the annuity or mutual life insurance companies now so common. Every Minister (as in the Mother Church of Scotland) paid annually a fixed sum to constitute a Fund, out of which at his death a certain annuity was paid to his widow for life and to his children for a term of years. Annuities were also to be paid to the Minister himself should he by sickness "be rendered incapable of all business whereby he might be supported."

This was all very well in its way. But this Corporation by no means represented the Bible teaching as to the duty of the people in the support of those "that preach the Gospel." This duty is not wholly discharged when in return for its immediate benefits a stipend is paid by the congregation to the pastor who serves it-a stipend which rarely permits him, even with the closest economy, to lay by anything for his support in protracted sickness or old age, or for his family after his death. It is the people who are to support the Ministry, and not the ministers themselves, as would virtually be the case if no other provision be made for their support in sickness or old age than that which is made through the Mutual Benefit Associations and Brotherhoods for those who have spent their lives in some one of the money making occupations. Although this Corporation continued for many years to report to the Synod, and then to the Assembly, it was regarded as a purely business matter. Collections were now and then taken up for it in the Churches, and contributions were solicited for it in the Mother Country, but the ground for these appeals seems always to have been that these worn-out Ministers, and their dependent widows, were a class of the worthy and deserving poor who ought to be aided in their efforts to take care of themselves. God's people had not learned in those days to distinguish between the sacred duty of the Church to its poor and its no less sacred duty to the Ministry. They had not carefully studied the rule for the support of the Christian Ministry laid down by the Apostle in his first epistle to the Corinthians. "Even so," said he, "hath the Lord ordained"-even so as it had been ordained in the law of Moses to which he had just referred. When the Levites became too old for the laborious service in offering the sacrifices at the Temple, were they not retired from their sacred duties and their support continued just the same as in the days of their strength and usefulness?

And so the whole matter of Ministerial support, in its relation to the sick and worn-out Pastor, was left to drift along—the Corporation continuing to represent the business idea and the collections in the churches the charity idea: and this latter became more and more prominent as the Corporation gradually withdrew from its relation to the Synod or to the Assembly, until finally it ceased to report at all.

When, therefore, the General Assembly took up the subject during its sessions in Pittsburg in 1849, it is no wonder that this charity idea had taken deep hold upon the Church. While the Churches gladly welcomed this new agency established by the Assembly for the care of our "disabled and superannuated Ministers, and widows and families of Presbyterian Ministers, who are in indigent circumstances," it was generally regarded only as an agency by which the "duty of the Church" to the "poor and distressed" might be better performed than by either the old Corporation or by the fitful and uncertain efforts of private charity.

There were not wanting men in either branch of our Church, who recognized the true principle upon which such an agency ought to be founded, but this "charity" idea was firmly fixed in the minds of the people. And it has prevailed to this day—confusing the mind of the Church as to the grounds and the extent of its obligation to the Ministry, and needlessly adding to the sorrow of these honored though dependent servants of the Church, by placing them in the humiliating position of recipients of public charity.

I recall an incident which illustrates how largely this feeling has penetrated the Church. I was visiting one of the Synods, and the subject of Ministerial Relief was discussed with great tenderness and interest. One after another of the brethren arose and spoke earnestly and forcibly. Many instances were given of faithful and honored servants of the Church who had reached an old age of want. A leading member of the Synod spoke, from his personal knowledge, of one of these suffering brethren of Christ, in a way that moved all our hearts. He told how, with shattered health and after a long life of usefulness and honor, this brother had now been reduced to absolute want. At a conference of his friends it was agreed to make an application to the Board of Relief for an appropriation of $300. This came to the knowledge of a friend of the speaker, one who also knew of the great worth and eminent service of this brother, and said he: "No, he shall not go upon the Board. I claim the privilege myself of contributing the $300."

Moderator, the whole Synod rang with applause. I too, could have heartily join d in it to show (as perhaps many did) appreciation of so generous an act on the part of this noble man; but I confess that a pang shot through my heart as I thought, that after all, the great assemblage was moved to this enthusiasm because the generous offer of this noble man had saved this brother from the humiliation of going upon the Board! Why should it have been more of a humiliation for him to receive the $300 from this agency of the Church than from the generosity of an individual?

With such an opinion prevailin so widely, is it a wonder that so many of those upon the Board keenly feel this humiliation? Do not let us judge them harshly for this sensitiveness. Perhaps some of them are morbid. But they are all educated, refined, cultured people, who have known happier days. Can you not understand and even honor the delicate sensitiveness which makes them shrink from being classed, as they are so thoughtlessly classed by many, with the pauper recipients of some charity fund?

The Secretary here read letters from several veterans showing their extreme sensitiveness, as to receiving aid from the Board. One of them, in a recent letter, gratefully acknowledging his first remittances from the Board, adds, nevertheless, that if it were ever possible for him to do so, he would return every penny to the Board!

Why should this honored servant of the Church, a-ked the Doctor, want to return this money to the Board, any more than to return to the Home Board the salary he received when he was a Missionary? Ah, you know why!

It was at the General Assembly at Omaha in 1887, and in the June number for that year of The Church at Home and Abroad, that I asked whether the Church had not too long borne the reproach of adding a new sorrow, even while it was relieving the need in these homes of our suffering brethren. If it is too much to hope that ample and honorable provision shall speedily be made by the Church for all those upon the Roll of its Board of Ministerial Relief, can there not be devised some change in the methods of the administration of the Board by which at least one class of those upon our Roll—the honorably retired pastors and missionaries—may be clearly recognized as the honored recipients of an annuity, or retiring allowance, which they have earned by their long and faithful service to the Church?

To this question there came, in the action of the Assembly last year, a response which, though not all the Secretary could wish, nevertheless was so hopeful for the future that he rejoiced and gave thanks. The new rule provides that the honorably retired minister—over seventy years of age, thirty years of whose life have been spent on the missionary fields of our Church or in its pastorate, and who is in need—shall no longer be obliged to appear annually before Presbytery to make bare his poverty, and by his very plea with his brethren to recommend him to the Board for an appropriation, deepen his own humiliation and the shame of the Church. Too often has that spectacle been witnessed by the present generation!

Only last week a pastor wrote to me describing his feelings at one of these scenes, which impressed him all the more as it occurred at the first meeting of the presbytery he attended. A venerable, godly man, had prepared a written statement of his nearly half a century's wook in the pastorate. During all these years he had labored within the bounds of that presbytery, never having been without a pastoral charge and never having had a salary of over $450-frequently less. Now he had grown old and feeble and could no longer earn his bread in the sacred work or in any other employment. A widowed daughter and her helpless little ones were dependent upon him for support. He needed help, and he humbly asked the presbytery if they would recommend him to the Board of Relief for an appropriation of $200. Handing this paper to the Moderator of the Presbytery, the Patriarch left the room with his head bowed and the tears coursing down his furrowed cheeks. Of course the presbytery (they all honored and loved him) hastened to vote him a recommendation to the Board; but, brethren, ought not this old man to have been spared that bowed head and those tears? Ah, the coming generation will wonder that such a scene was ever witnessed.

Now the new rule of the Assembly not only emphasizes the fact that service to the Church, and not poverty, is the basis of the claim which the worn out veteran has upon the Board of Relief—that has often been emphasized before—but it is put in a business shape. When the long and useful service of the honorably retired Pastor or Missionary is, once for all, a matter of record upon the minutes of Presbytery, the veteran, upon the simple statement of his need, and without further questioning, draws his modest annuity of $300 from our Board for the few remaining years of his life. Why was not this done before?

Dr. Cattell then spoke of the twenty-six honorably retired veterans, who, during the past year had availed themselves of this provision which takes away so largely the sense of humiliating dependence under the old rule which has prevailed since 1849. The oldest of these ministers placed upon the new "Roll of Honor," is in his ninety-fourth year. Eight are past four score. The average age is seventy-eight, and the average number of years spent in the ministry is forty-four.

Referring to the "need" of the veteran, as a necessary condition of his receiving an appropriation from the Board, the Secretary confessed that he saw only one way to entirely eliminate this "charity" idea, and that was in the retiring allowance fixed for pastors and missionaries who have served the Church for a certain number of years there shall be no distinction between those who are poor and those who are not. The annuity provided for the retiring Judges of all our Federal courts and the officers in the army and navy is regarded by the recipients themselves, no less than by the public, to be as honorable to them as to the country that gives it. For this annuity is not only ample; it is paid to the retiring judge or officer all the same whether he is rich or poor, sick or well. The Government never asks him: "Have you not enough money to live on? Or, cannot your children or your relatives, or your wife's relatives support you?" Or the further question: "Why did you not, like other people, lay by something out of your ample salary for your support in old age?" But these questions have been too often asked of the worn out preacher—though there is not much emphasis laid upon the ample salary! Is it not the church that should set an example to the Government in the tender care of its servants and in the honorable provision made for their old age, rather than that the Government should set an example to the Church?

Just before leaving home I said to a lady who is very much interested in the work of this Board: "The General Assembly of our Church has often emphasized the fact that the appropriations from the Board are not charity or alms but the payment (and that only in part) of a just debt. How does it strike you that the Assembly limits the payments to those who are in need?" Said she: "It strikes me as a little confusing. But I suppose that the reason for the limitation is that you cannot raise money enough to pay a decent appropriation even to those who are in need." Like all women, she hit the nail on the head the very first time she struck at it. Yes, brethren, "we are confronted by a condition, not by a theory." The Presbyterian Church does not contribute enough money to furnish a decent support for its aged servants who are in need.

Look at the figures in our report this year. Thirty-five hundred churches (more than half of all upon the Roll of the Assembly) made last year no contribution whatever to our treasury? One hundred and forty churches only went through the motion of it, giving in all $129.67, ranging from one dollar to twenty-five cents (it was the pastor himself, no doubt, who gave the dollar out of his own meager salary!), and worse than their record is that of many large and wealthy churches that are still playing the role of that widow with only two mites. Last year the Board received $92,570 from the collections in Churches and Sabbath-schools; add to this $12,798 sent directly to the treasury by a comparatively few generous individuals, and there was only a little over a hundred thousand dollars contributed during the year, to be divided among 624 families upon the Roll of the Board. The interest from the Permanent Fund was $34,911; but the whole income was only $140,856, while the expenditure, on the present scale of small appropriations to those in need, was $143,981. The Board really ends the year with a debt of $3,125.

Brethren, let us first make some worthy provision for these blessed servants of the Church who are in need, and then we can argue the question whether this charity idea cannot and ought not to be effectually and finally disposed of by a "retiring allowance" to every worn out pastor and missionary. It will be interesting, then, to inquire whether there was any other reason than the poverty of the Presbyterian Church for the declaration in the New Rule that the veteran by his service to the Church is entitled to a retiring allowance if he needs it! And doubtless some will then wonder whether the Presbyterian Church really held the view that a just debt ought to be paid only when the creditor is poor!

The Doctor, however, asserted that the "need" of the worn-out minister did not in itself involve any humiliation. Surely, the servants of Him who had nowhere to lay his head will never hold this view.

Whatever may be the hardships of poverty, it is the glory of the Presbyterian ministers, worn out in the service of the Church, that they are poor. Professor Agassiz once said, "I have never had time to make money." How nobly this sounds from his lips—for he had all the time there was! But the philosopher was too absorbed in his great work to turn aside from it to make money, even to provide for his old age; and the ministry furnishes a still grander illustration of self-sacrifice in the noblest of callings.

No, it is not the "need" of the worn-out minister in his old age that is humiliating. It is the "charity" idea associated with the provision for his support that does this; and if men would only look at it rightly, there is, after all, a sense in which the "need" of the veteran may be regarded as the reason for an annuity, or retiring allowance or pension, without obscuring the service which entitles him to it. Was it not the pathetic fact of General Grant's "need" that brought about his pension near the close of his life?—for such was really the replacing of his name by Congress upon the retired list of the Army. But shall this obscure his great service to the country, which, after all, was the only ground upon which this honorable provision for his relief could rightly have been made by Congress. Who thinks of calling this an act of charity, though it would never have been done if the illustrious General had not been in need.

And the New Rule of the Assembly reduces almost to the vanishing point whatever might wound the feelings of the veteran in the fact that his retiring allowance is given to him in view of his "need." He has now only to state the fact, with the official record of his services to the Church. No painful and humiliating questions are now asked! There is not a man in all our Church who can object to this retiring allowance of $300 being placed in the hands of an honorably retired minister upon his simple statement that he needs this amount from the Board for his support, after he has given thirty years of service to the Church as a missionary or pastor.

Yes, I do rejoice and give thanks for the advance which has been made by the New Rule. It is a good beginning; but let the good work go on until the very thought of humiliation in the aged minister's drawing a pension from the Church because he is in need, shall be an impossibility; and the very names of these veterans, instead of being carefully suppressed, can be publicly announced and printed as a "Roll of Honor."*

Ah, how carefully do some presbyteries conceal the names of those whom they recommend to the Board for aid! I honor the tender and thoughtful delicacy that leads the brethren thus to spare the feelings of these Wards of the Church. Perhaps, as things now are, it may be the best plan—But is it not a sad proof of the existence of a widespread sentiment in the Church that, after all, there really is in these appropriations something for the veteran to be ashamed of? And does not this studious concealment of the name perpetuate this sentiment, which ought not to exist at all?

Last month I visited one of our Presbyteries—that of Lackawanna—and it gladdened me to find that the brethren there had taken high ground on this very subject. A whole evening was given to the cause, and Dr. Logan, the Chairman of our Committee in that Presbytery, in his Report read at this meeting, dwelt tenderly upon each case upon which the Presbytery was called to act. Nor did he hesitate to mention the honored name, as though the "need" which led the blessed servants of the Church to apply for aid to which they were entitled by their services, was something to be ashamed of! No! No! Of course it was put in a wise way; the "service" was so emphasized that the appropriation, asked for from the Board for these suffering brethren, was recognized as something they had fairly earned; and there was no member of that Presbytery, and no min or woman in that large audience, who did not feel that these retiring allowances were honorable to these veterans and honorable to the Church—except that the amount was shamefully small.

It so happened that among these names was that of a Minister very dear to me. I had myself long years ago, when a young Professor at Lafayette College, often called that name in the class-room. He was older than I was,

<sup>***</sup> Scarcely a week passes but our church papers contain an appreciative obituary notice of some honored father of the church who, in his helpless old age, has been receiving aid from this Board; but that fact is scrupulously withheld. *** Let me give you a case in point. Not long since I received a brief note to the effect that the writer had sent to one of the religious journals here in Philadelphia a notice of the life and character of an honored father of the Church who had just died. But writing in great haste, and under unusual pressure of work, he feared there was something said which might betray the fact that the patriarch was upon the roll of this Board. He therefore begged me to go to the office of the paper and look over the proof, as there was not time for it to reach him by mail and if there was any such sentence, to strike it out. I was deeply touched by the delicate and thoughtful consideration of this good pastor, so characteristic of him; but, my dear brother, why should there he forced upon him and upon me and upon the Presbytery the necessity of being so careful lest it should come to be known that some honored servant of th Church received aid from the Board of Relief? May God speed the coming of a better day!

and well do I remember the manly form that rose in response, and the invariably good rendering of the Greek that followed. The tender mention of his name in the Report recalled cherished memories of those far-off days, when, in that class room and in the students' weekly prayer-meetings and in the Chapel service and in many long walks we had taken together, my heart was knit to his. But little did I then think that when we both came to be old and gray-headed, it would be through my hand there would be put into his, the annual remittance from the Church that would keep him from hard and bitter want. But so it has pleased God. After many long years of faithful, laborious and self-sacrificing service, mainly in feeble churches, this scholarly man was stricken with paralysis, and was laid aside from the work he loved so well. You can understand how, among the many letters that have come to me, as Secretary of the Board, from these honored servants of the Church upon our Roll, few have had for me such a pathetic interest as those from the humble home of my old pupil and friend. May I read you one of them?

Here the doctor read a tender letter from his aged and helpless friend, which referred to his entire dependence for the support of himself and his wife upon the remittance of $200 sent from the Board, and modestly asked for its continuance another year, adding:

"We hope the funds in hand may be sufficient to justify such an appropriation: but if not, we will try to suffer patiently with your other needy pensioners."

Think of it! said the Doctor. This godly, scholarly man, tracing with his tremnlous hands, "growing more helpless daily," these pathetic lines. I wish they could be read in every Presbyterian home throughout the land!

After describing a visit he had made to the humble home of this patient sufferer, Doctor Cattell said: "The memory of that last interview always touches me most deeply; but not less was I affected when at this large meeting, Dr. Logan, in his report to the Presbytery, dwelt so tenderly upon the name of that dear old man, and upon his services to the Church, and then added there would no longer be any necessity for the Presbytery to vote him an appropriation! God had provided for his afflicted servant better things. A few weeks ago a Voice had called to him in his pain and suffering: Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord!

One more reference, Moderator, before I take my seat—it is to that devoted wife, who for many long years had cheered and aided her husband in his sacred work. I must read you a letter from her that I received in answer to one of mine, containing a little sum of money, placed in my hands by a friend to use according to my own judgment:

"Dear Brother: Your unexpected favor reached my husband yesterday. With tear dimmed eyes we read your note, and I am not sure but your words of kind remembrance were of more value than the check accompanying them, much as we appreciated the latter. It is not always that our friends remember that our greatest trial is that we are laid aside from the work. Yet we are thankful that the work goes on, even if we are not helping, as we would like to do.

Did you notice that sentence, "our greatest trial is that we are laid aside from the work"? Oh, brethren, who can estimate the worth of the minister's wife to the church? Her name does not appear in the call to the pastor and no salary is named for her. But think of what her service is to the church—not only in the joy with which she irradiates the manse, cheering and strengthening her husband for his special duty—but her own share in the parish work. Calling once at the manse of an old friend I was told he was out of town. Then I asked for his wife, whom I had long known. The answer was that "she had gone to visit some sick people." Not the sick people among her personal friends, but the sick people of the parish! Shall there not be some recognition by the Church of this faithful service? Shall it ever be told to the shame of the Church that in the home of the Pastor's widow there is no bread?

And do your thoughts revert to the noble woman whose letter I have just read, and are you thinking of the Church's duty to her in her lonely and dependent widowhood? Let me further tell you that for many weary months she had suffered intensely with a malady that put her life in peril every moment, and which she well knew must end it at no distant day. But she carefully concealed all knowledge of this from her husband. Her constant prayer was that her life might be spared as long as his. When her tender ministrations for him were ended she did not care to live longer.

And God granted the desire of her heart. Just two weeks after she had gently folded upon her husband's breast the dear paralyzed hands—now no longer trembling, but still as the heart beneath—she was not, for God took her.

In her home now there is no suffering or want. But, as our Report tells you, there are throughout our Church more than three hundred homes where the pastor's widow sits solitary, and where there is want—often hard and bitter want! Fathers and Brethren, need I urge you to "help those women?"

III. Meetings of the Elders During the Sessions of the Assembly.

(From the Daily Saratogian, May 24th.)

The meetings held on Tuesday and Wednesday by the elder-commissioners to the General Assembly at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association were largely attended. In fact the audience overflowed the hall and occupied a large part of the reading-room adjoining. Elder William H. Parsons, of the Synod of New York, presided at the first meeting, and after devotional exercises, said:

We have met here, brethren, to consider our duty as elders in Christ's Church; especially our duty with reference to the Board of Ministerial Relief. Your sympathies and mine have gone out towards those servants of the Church who have been laid aside either by sickness or the infirmities of age. We all recognize our duty in this matter, and the responsibility that rests upon us; but the fear is that when we leave the Assembly and go to our homes the cares of business life may call our attention away from the needs of this Board. We have, of course, a duty in connection with all of the boards of the Church, This we all recognize, but there are some of the boards whose interests the pastor can better look after than we can. With respect, however, to this Board of Ministerial Relief, I think it devolves upon the elders of the Church more than upon the ministers themselves to see that its work is effective, that its aims and wants are made known to all our congregations, and that its treasury is always supplied, The time allotted for this meeting is very short and I shall not take up any more of it. The meeting is now in your hands.

Brief addresses were then made by elders representing all parts of the Church. The interest was so great that frequently three or four elders rose at the same time to address the meeting.

Elder Curtis C. Strong, M. D., from Oregon, spoke of Ministerial Relief as a subject of very great importance, and one which really interested the whole Church. The people, however, do not generally understand the importance and necessity of contributing to the Board. The ministers have got the idea that to present this subject from the pulpit is begging for themselves, and the result is that many of them neglect this duty. Ministerial Relief is a subject, therefore, that should be taken up by the elders and pushed by them in every congregation. He referred to the nominal sum that was contributed last year for this Board, and emphasized the necessity of adopting some method to increase the contributions in all our churches for the aid of our sick and wornout ministers.

Elder David N. Murray, of Ohio, referred to the fact that nearly twenty years before the General Assembly took this matter up he introduced a resolution in his presbytery for the relief of our superannuated ministers, and a committee, of which he was one, was appointed to this duty, which they performed for many years. I could not bear, said he, to see our worn-out ministers turned out from their field after long years of usefulness with no means of sustenance. When the General Assembly took the matter up I rejoiced, and I do hope that this matter will go on until a much better support is provided for all.

Elder Alfred Hand, formerly of the supreme court of Pennsylvania, and a commissioner to the Assembly from the Presbytery of Lackawanna, spoke of his beloved pastor having been stricken down with paralysis as he stood one Sabbath in the pulpit. His usefulness as a pastor was over, and he resigned his pulpit. But the church, as long as he lived, which was several years, tenderly cared for him, paying him an annuity of $1,200. When he died the church paid $300 to his widow; and they are paying it now and expect to pay it as long as she lives, in addition to their contribution to the Board of Ministerial Relief. "There is no one in that church," said he, "who feels that we are doing an act of charity. It is simply our duty. We want to get rid of that idea of charity so generally associated with the provision made by the Church for the support of the sick and worn-out ministers. The elders must devise a plan to educate the people up to their great privilege, as well as their duty, to support them, just as those are supported who are preaching the Word. Let us enter into this work heart and soul."

Elder James S. Baker, from New Jersey, wanted the meeting to take a practical turn. The elders know what their duty is. The Church last year contributed a little over $100,000.00 to this cause. We should go home and tell our churches we want $200,000.00; and the delegates here must put into their brother elders at home the same spirit which has been aroused in this Assembly. We should go to our presbyteries and insist that this subject of Ministerial Relief be brought fully before them. We must make the churches double their contributions.

Elder James Brown, Synod of Kansas, confessed that, while he had looked at this matter before he came to the Assembly, and had considered it a sacred duty to take care of the disabled ministers, it had never struck him in the light it has since he heard the report of the Board to the Assembly. That it is not merely a duty, but a high privilege; that it is not a charity doled out to these servants of the Church, but a reward for their faithful services, all this had dawned upon him since then. He hoped all the elders would go to their homes resolved to educate the people up to a sense of their duty and responsibility. Ministerial relief is a great work. The elders should feel a deeper and more sacred interest in it than they now do.

Elder N. T. Clark, from the presbytery of Geneva, thought one evening ought to be set apart for Ministerial Relief at every meeting of presbytery. In that way it can be brought, not only before the ministers and elders, but before the people.

Elder S. Cadwallader, from Los Angeles, Cal., said that the session of his church had already taken action upon the subject of Ministerial Relief. It was the duty of the elders to present the claims of that Board, and the cause would be presented in all the churches of his presbytery.

Elder D. C. Eaton, of Brooklyn, expressed his very great pleasure at the practical turn this meeting had taken. Every clder in the Assembly should charge himself with the duty of seeing to it that each church in his presbytery takes a collection for Ministerial Relief, and the contributions in every church should be at least doubled. Elder Barber agreed with the last speaker, and thought the elders in attendance at the General Assembly would not perform their duty unless the influence and spirit of the Assembly reached throughout the land from ocean to ocean. As representatives of their respective presbyteries it was the duty of each one to carry home and extend the spirit and enthusiasm which has been here aroused. At the next presbytery the elders should make a report of these meetings, and look to it that in each of our presbyteries the elders are made to feel the same influence and spirit that has prevailed here. The doubling of the collections in the churches will then be more than realized.

Elder Oscar L. Peak, from Kansas, referred to the elders' meetings frequently held preceding and during the meeting of the presbytery. Some elder should present, at each of these, this subject of Ministerial Relief. In that way it will reach all the churches of the presbytery.

Elder P. W. Bently, Synod of Pennsylvania, suggested that as the elders would all go home filled with a desire to carry out the thoughts gained at the Assembly, each one should resolve himself into a committee of one and see that this matter is effectively brought to the attention of all the churches in his presbytery.

Elder F. F. Hopkins, from the Pacific Coast, observed that although in the church to which he belonged they were very strict to take up a collection, he had always observed that it was with more or less diffidence that this matter was presented by the pastor of the church. He agreed with the previous speaker that the elders should take hold of this matter with vigor and bring it before the presbyteries.

Elder G. N. White also emphasized this thought. He insisted that the elders would not do their duty to simply see that this cause is represented in their respective churches and a collection taken. He found no cause for which he could raise money so easily as for the Board which provides for the faithful minister of Christ who is disabled or worn out in the service. People who are not members of the Church give as gladly as those who are members.

The Chairman here announced that the hour had expired, and it was unanimously resolved to continue the topic at the meeting in the same place next day.

Elder James A. Beaver, governor of Pennsylvania, presided at the meeting on Wednesday, and, after the devotional exercises, referred to an officer in the army, a comrade of his in the war, whose friends, including the speaker. had recently interested themselves in a bill before congress to place him upon the retired list of the regular army as a lieutenant-colonel. From over nineteen states of the union letters, petitions and appeals in his favor were sent to Washington, to the Military Committee in both houses of Congress. The argument was based upon his services to the country, and the appeal for him was made because of love for him. So had these ministers a right, by their services to the Church, to demand a support in sickness or old age; and though the minister may have some diffidence in presenting this subject from the pulpit, he has no right to have any such feeling. This leads to the very thing we are endeavoring to prevent. That is, having the Church think an appropriation from the Board to our ministers is anything more than that to which they have a right. No good reason can be given why a minister should not present this cause trom the pulpit with all the power and pathos he has. I agree that the elders ought to assist all in their power, but the minister ought first to put himself on record; it he does not the elders ought to stand up and tell why he does not. The governor insisted that all pastors should teach their people the basis upon which the Board is founded; that the Church owes a support to every minister of the Gospel who is disabled in the service of the Church. There is no charity about it. "I want," said he, "to take that idea away from it, and it is my firm conviction that this reluctance of the pasters to present this cause to their people helps to make the appropriations given to ministers regarded as a charity rather than the discharge of an obligation which the Church owes her disabled servants. This meeting has been called to devise some practical means by which the elders and the pastors of the Presbyterian church can give this Board of Ministerial Relief the support it ought to have in the year to come, and this should be $150,000 outside of its regular income from the interest of its invested funds.*

Elder William H. Parsons, Synod of New York, agreed with the governor that the pastors ought to present this subject from their pulpits, but at the same time there was undoubtedly more embarrassment upon their part in pleading this cause than in pleading for the other Boards. Therefore the elders, in connection with the pastors, should give themselves heartily to this work, not only in their own churches, but also in all the churches of the presbytery. An effort should be made to at least double the contributions of last year.

*Governor Beaver was a Commissioner to the Centennial General Assembly in Philadelphia, year before last. He was Vice-Moderator of the Assembly and Chairman of the Standing Committee upon Ministerial Relief. His report and the abstract of the address he made in presenting it to the Assembly are printed in the appendix to the report of the Board for that year, 1888.

Elder Daniel R. Noyes, Minnesota, said he had come to the conclusion first to contribute more himself to this cause. There are 250 elders members of this General Assembly, and they represent a large amount of intelligence and wealth, God-given. If they go home and do their duty the collections for the Board will increase fifty per cent. He then referred to the necessity of more concentration in their benevolent work, and not scatter so much. Let us do the work which our own church has undertaken. If it be necessary to have two collections for foreign missions, let us have them; and two for Ministerial Relief, if necessary. "Then," said he, "I shall try to have all the churches in the presbytery give something for this cause; but let us give all that we can."*

Elder Clark was surprised to learn that ministers in any part of the country are timid about presenting this cause to the people. Where he lived that feeling was not known. Our pastors and our presbytery are very particular to keep this sacred cause before the people.

Elder William Wynkoop, Philadelphia, reminded Governor Beaver that when the Synod of Pennsylvania met in Bellefonte it was resolved that the elders should go home and especially bring the matter before the Sunday-schools and instruct the children in this cause, and that a collection should be taken up. He described how this was done in his church, and they got about half as much as the church itself had given. A collection for this cause had been taken up from year to year ever since. Besides the amount thus gained, the youth of our Church are being educated in this noble cause. Elder George H. Utter, from the recently formed Synod of New Mexico, urged all the missionary churches, however feeble, to interest themselve in this cause and to contribute something toward it.

Elder Henry Day, of New York referred to the interest taken by his church in this great and noble work, as shown by their contribution to the han to the ministry itself.

Not only is this obligation imperative in itself, but such generous provision commends itself as of the greatest importance to the Church in all its interests. I tencourages young men to prepare for and enter the ministry. It strengthens and sustains them in it, relieving them from anxious care for the future, and enabling them to do better and more hopeful work.

*Mr. Noyes says, in a recent letter to the Secretary, who had requested his views upon the work of the Board:—

To provide for our aged and infirm ministers and their families, and to do it in a way that acknowledges their right to such provision—is the great privilege, as well as the sacred duty of the Church; and this duty belongs to the eldership and membership, rather than to the ministry itself.

In this provision for its aged and disabled servants, and in the manner of it, I trust the Church of Christ may not only do as well as worldly corporations and governments, but may lead them in willing and generous acknowledgment of service rendered. There is wealth enough, ability enough, and grace enough in our Presbyterian Church to speedily complete the one million fund and to double our annual gifts for Ministerial Relief without in any way impairing the work of the Church in any of its other departments while doing so Centenary Fund, which amounted to over seventy thousand dollars. He showed the necessity of individual work as necessary to success in this as in every other good cause. He also emphasized the thought that these collections should be made so as to elevate the ministry. Our Lord's words, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me," had a special application to this cause. These ministers of Christ are in a special sense his brethren.

Brief but spirited addresses followed from Elders James H. Torrey, of Pennsylvania; William A. Bowles, Tennessee; R. V. Ditmore, Indiana; and J. Foster Barber, Pennsylvania, who emphasized the importance of thoroughly enlisting all the Sabbath-schools in this work.

Governor Beaver announced that the time for closing the meeting had arrived, but the brethren all wanted to hear from Elder George Junkin, the president of the Board, and he called upon him for the closing address. Mr. Junkin responded with much feeling, referring to his connection with this Board for the past twenty-five years, and showed that the principle upon which it ought to be put is that to support a sick or aged minister is a matter of right, and not a matter of charity brought out by pity. The church, said he, does not give us enough money to properly care for its servants who are in want; and he described the feelings of all the members of the Board as they sat beside their too often empty treasury and heard the appeals for help from these honored servants of the church. These old soldiers of the cross ought to receive their appropriations as a matter of justice, and when they die they ought to know that they do not leave their wives and children to the benevolence and charity of the church. But the Board should not have an endowment fund so large as to relieve the church from annual contributions to its treasury. This cause should year by year lie upon the hearts of the people. These two meetings, said he in conclusion, have simply been splendid. Do not let us go back to our churches and allow it all to end in the speeches made here. When Nehemiah went down to build the wall around Jerusalem, he set every man to work over against his own house. Our first duty is to work for this cause in our own congregations. Let us work there first, and then if we have time, let us go into the neighboring churches.

Note.—Mr. William E. Dodge, an Elder-Commissioner to the Assembly who took special interest in these meetings, made a brief but most earnest and forcible address to the General Assembly, following the Secretary of the Board, when the report of the Assembly's Standing Committee upon Ministerial Relief was under consideration.
